Biography

Whereas many influencers and icons in Hollywood seek to gain a greater following nationwide, her purpose is so much bigger. For film producer, author, and motivational speaker, Angela White, it's not about the lights and cameras. It's about the legacy she will leave to her heirs and those who will come behind her in the entertainment industry. Featured on Fox News, Sirius XM Radio, TBN, Yahoo Finance, and ABC News, to name a few, Angela has served as a trailblazer and mentor for thousands in the media and entertainment world—positioning them to better understand show business and, ultimately, earn more income.

Although Angela holds both a Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Delaware and a Master of Arts degree in Political Science from Rutgers University, she chose the road less traveled. Even after obtaining a Juris Doctorate degree from the New York Law School, instead of becoming the go-to lawyer, she became the go-to manager for comedians and comedic actors, such as JB Smoove, in Hollywood. However, it's her professional and educational background that positions her to translate the entertainment industry in a practical, sensible way—benefitting her clientele firsthand.

Her jumpstart to producing and managing comedy shows led her to become the series creator and executive producer of "The Comedy Underground Series," which was one of the first original comedy stand-up shows from the Urban Movie Channel, now known as Allblk (the company is owned by AMC Networks).

In addition to founding Silver Lining Entertainment, a family-owned multimedia entertainment company based in Los Angeles, California, Angela also founded Backstage Pass to the Movie Industry, an online educational platform for those who wish to gain more knowledge in the arts, entertainment, and media. Most recently, she launched Dreamers with Purpose, a non-profit organization that assists people of color, women, and those who are financially disadvantaged with dream and purpose fulfillment. Having been poured into professionally and personally by industry professionals and leaders, Angela is intentional about paying it forward in her day-to-day work.

As the first African American woman to produce and own a production company that released a theatrically faith-based film, entitled "A Question of Faith," featuring Kim Fields and Richard T. Jones, Angela continues to open doors of opportunity for people of all backgrounds and walks of life through her work. Transitioning from talent management to production, Angela serves as a member of the Producers Guild of America, and her films have showcased some of today's top Hollywood talent, including: "4Play," featuring Tiffany Haddish; "The Last Letter," starring Omari Hardwick; "The Sin Seer," starring Isaiah Washington and Salli Richardson; and "My Favorite Five," starring Brian White and Jay Ellis, among others. Her work can also be seen on the TV series, "Pump," which features Ray J and Michael Jai White, the TV series, "Laugh Tonight with Damon Williams," Allblk's TV series, "Lace" starring Maryam Basir and Skyh Black, A24's upcoming feature film "The Inspection," and Allblk's TV series, "A La Carte." Thus, further positioning Angela as a force to be reckoned with onscreen and off-screen. On the heels of making others' dreams come true, Angela has now taken a leap of faith by entering the world of screenplay writing and directing with her directorial debut Transgress, and the "award-winning" Hands Up. As she further explores the world of writing and directing, Angela is ecstatic about crafting new multi-cultural stories and leaving an impact on this nation that cannot be erased.

"My name is Jasmin-Nicole, Director/DP, from Nashville, Tn. I'm so glad and blessed that I'm a member of the BP Academy. Angela White is so thorough, professional, and a blessing to the film and entertainment industry. One of my most recent short films, "Soldier," that I directed, is now playing on Amazon Prime! The BP Academy taught me how to strategically plan, prepare, and execute the vision to bring the film to reality. Angela doesn't only talk about the art and the process of filmmaking, but about integrity and the business side of the film industry. Angela White and her staff helped build my confidence as a filmmaker! I'm forever GRATEFUL!!!"

"Producer's Bootcamp is a genius program created by Ms. Angela White, giving eager individuals a taste of what it takes to produce a film in this industry. Producing an independent film prior to signing up for Producer's Bootcamp, I knew there were still a lot of things I needed to learn, and this program filled in those voids. Not only did I get the experience of producing a film out of state, but I also got the privilege of having my script selected to be produced. How exciting is that! From pre-production to post-production, Producer's Bootcamp gives you the experience and the knowledge you're looking for. So if you're willing to roll up your sleeves and put in some hard work, sign up for the next Producer's Bootcamp and walk away with the knowledge and education you've been seeking."

"Ms. White is about making people's dreams come true if you put in the work. "Producer's Bootcamp" provides you with hands-on experience in a professional environment that produces quality work. It doesn't end there. On top of getting an IMDB credit, she and her team invest more time in getting the films produced in these bootcamps into festivals and more.

I know no other program out there that does this. It is surely one of a kind, especially for people of color."
